

Stefan Haves is an entertainer, impresario, master teacher, and creator of performance across the globe. He, along with a small cadre of fellow visionaries, have re-imagined the traditional world of circus, vaudeville, variety, and cabaret for the contemporary audience, forever breaking the mold, deepening the imagination of design, movement and acrobatics while holding fast to the universal comfort and global power of storytelling.

Performance

Stefan Haves began his career at fifteen; performing on Stage, Television, and Film. With his background in physical comedy, Haves created a comedy contortion act, entitled "Back-Man," which he performed in variety shows and on international television shows all over the world. He reprised a command performance of Back-Man in 2013 during a special tribute to the Grand-Daughter of Charlie Chaplin at the Cirque-A-Palooza Festival at the Pasadena Playhouse.

Below, is a sampling of 'Back-Man:'
